HERE COMES ANOTHER ONE—

"ONE NATION . . . INDIVISIBLE"

America's number one veteran and Legionnaire, President Eisenhower, has issued a formal proclamation calling upon "all our citizens to observe Thursday, November 11, 1954 as Veterans Day. "On that day," it says, "let us solemnly remember the sacrifices of all those who fought so valiantly, on the seas, in the air, and on foreign shores, to preserve our heritage of freedom, and let us reconsecrate ourselves to the task of promoting an enduring peace so that their efforts shall not have been in vain."

The President's proclamation cites our custom of memorializing November 11 as the anniversary of the armistice ending World War I and suggests the greater appropriateness of the name, Veterans Day (as approved by Congress last June 1st) since "in the intervening years the United States has been involved in two other great military conflicts, which have added millions of veterans, living and dead, to the honor rolls of this Nation . . ."

In directing government officials to see that the flag is displayed on all public buildings on this day, the President is at least hinting at what the rest of us should do on this occasion when "all veterans, all veterans' organizations and the entire citizenry will wish to join hands in the common purpose." We'd better get up those colors

Across the land, in cities, towns and villages, observance arrangements, parades and other programs will be in the hands of joint committees representing the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Amvets, and Disabled American Veterans. And, coincidentally, at 15 metropolitan centers from the Dodgers' baseball park in Brooklyn, N.Y., to the Rose Bowl in Hollywood, the Legion will officiate, at the request of Attorney General Brownell, in ceremonies following the induction of nearly 25,000 new Americans into the full rights and privileges of citizenship.

It is appropriate that all Americans, the newest as well as the oldest, participate in Veterans Day. For one thing, thousands of our new citizens are veterans who fought under the American flag in two world wars and in Korea—even though this country had no claim on them. And for another, the sons of those who are naturalized on this first Veterans Day may well be marching themselves on Veterans Days to come.

German Says U.S. And Russia Begin "Race To Moon"

BONN, Germany, (AP)—Dr. Walter Gerlach, deputy chairman of West German's Space Research Society, said Tuesday the United States and Russia have begun a "race to the moon."

German researchers believe the first nation to get a space station able to watch all earth's activities will be master of the globe, he declared.

Gerlach reported his organization had heard rumors the United States already has worked out plans for a three-stage rocket capable of mastering earth's gravity.

German scientists believe the Russians can succeed in space travel research if given enough money and material. They point out the Russians have some very capable men, both of their own nationality and hired German researchers.

Japanese Prof Accused by Co-eds of Mixing Whisky And Love With Learning

NARA, Japan, (AP)—A 45-year-old professor accused by coeds of mixing whisky and wooing in the Nara College curriculum has announced he will resign.

Fifty of his girl students asserted Prof. Magashira Abe had offered to improve their grades if they cooperated with his style of education.

Some said he taught them—behind locked classroom doors—to drink whisky and make love.

Ridiculous, said the professor. Students at rally called for expulsion. The faculty concurred.

Abe said in a statement today he could "not be bothered with these trivialities." Therefore, he would resign and "devote my time to study."

McKay Asks Continuation Of Administration's Power Program

PORTLAND, Ore., (AP)—Interior Secretary McKay told the National Reclamation Association here Monday there should be continued efforts to make a success of the administration's partnership program in development of natural resources.

McKay made no specific reference to the election, in which the Democrats won control of Congress. But he said there will be no change in the administration's power policy.

Earlier he told newsmen the voters had not repudiated the power policy, declaring almost all western congressmen who supported the program had been re-elected.

The Interior Secretary shrugged off a suggestion by Sen. Wm. Langer (R-ND) that McKay should resign. McKay commented that he was appointed by President Eisenhower and would stay as long as Eisenhower wants him.

President Nominates Grandson of John Marshall To The Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Eisenhower's nomination of U.S. circuit judge John Marshall Harlan to the Supreme Court, where his grandfather once sat, seemed headed today for easy passage through the Senate.

But trouble appeared to be brewing for the nomination of Atomic Energy Commissioner Joseph Campbell to be comptroller-general—head of the General Accounting Office, whose job it is to keep close tabs on how federal agencies spend the money Congress gives them.

There was no indication the President had consulted senators in advance about either appointment.

The White House announced the nominations yesterday and the President submitted them formally to the Senate today. The Senate reconvened Monday mainly to consider censure charges against Sen. McCarthy.

Vietminh President Says Frenchmen Will Be "Well Received" In His Country

PARIS, (AP)—Vietminh President Ho Chi Minh, replying to written questions submitted by the French news agency, said today that Frenchmen returning to Hanoi would be "well received." It was the first "interview" the Communist leader has given a Western newsman since he established his capital in Hanoi.

Nome Chamber Discusses AVA, Holiday Closings

The regular meeting of the Northwestern Alaska Chamber of Commerce was called to order by President Boyd Harwood following luncheon at the Polaris Cafe. There were 14 members present and three guests. Rev. Reeves Havens and Rev. Curtis Johnson needed no introduction to the group. Dr. Langsam introduced Mr. Silverberg of the Nome High School, who was attending for the first time.

Mr. Dewey Goodrich brought up the problem of closing stores on holidays. He stated that the chamber should take action to see that if one store observes a holiday that other establishments also observe the same closure. It was suggested that possibly Sunday hours could be observed rather than closing the store, since it places a hardship on the stores whose employees come under the payment of wages on holidays in accordance with generally accepted union practices.

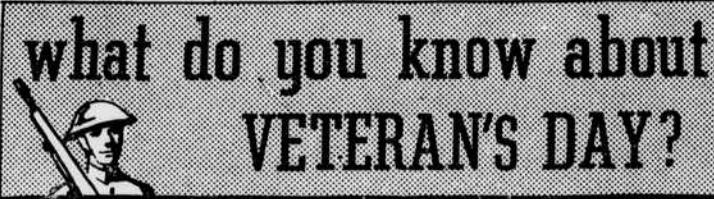

Mr. A. Polet brought up the problem of the Alaska Visitors Assn. He stated that he thought the chamber president should appoint a committee to get this underway. It was brought to the group's attention that a committee had been appointed, a meeting held, and a letter written to the Alaska Visitors Assn. for data in order to properly conduct a drive. At the present time the chairman of the committee is out of town and it was decided to leave this committee as appointed so that they could carry out this project.

Dist. Atty. Russell Hermann told of his recent trip to Washington, D.C. He said he met with the other district attorneys from the territory and that they covered the various problems in their districts. He said he also checked with other agencies that have to do with territorial problems and that he met with the Employment Security Commission on employment regulations. He also stated that he received information to the effect that plans for a new Federal Building for Nome had reached the draft board status.

HOPPALONG CASSIDY PINS INTERRUPT DOCK STRIKE

SYDNEY, Australia, (AP)—Hopalong Cassidy put a slight crimp in the Australian waterfront strike Wednesday.

Sydney dockers agreed to unload 10,000 "Hopalong Cassidy good luck medals" from the freighter Ventura for distribution by the western film star—William Boyd—here tomorrow.
